

Only Human

All you are is all you have
And there's nowhere left to hide.
Human beings are in the past
And in the future we're left behind.

So, get up in the morning and do your thing
The early riser will seize the day.
Create the kind of world that you want to live in
And forget the old traditional ways.

Moving on forward is the way to go
But machines are dominating our world.
Our inventions are a danger to the life we know
And we're forgetting all the lessons we learned.

I need my imagination to come and save me now
Because I'm only human
I'm only human
I'm only human
I'm only human

I'm calm, determined, devoted and loyal
I'm aggressive, lazy, jealous and crude
I'm tolerant, polite, creative and honest.
I'm impatient, bad, boring and rude

All of these contradictions make me what I am
Because I'm only human.
I'm only human
I'm only human
I'm only human

- The machines are not coming. They are already here
- Automation isn't going to affect some workers, it's going to affect every worker
 - The AI Revolution happens probably much quicker than the Industrial Revolution.
- What's going to happen is that robots will be able to do everything better than us.
- New technical developments are set to destroy more jobs than they create.
- Within about the next fifteen years the human species is actually going to develop super-human level machine intelligence.

Because I'm only human.
I'm only human
I'm only human
I'm only human

www.theatreinenglish.com